Biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics and informatics teachers as well as preschool and primary school teachers are invited to hand in their most innovative teaching ideas by 10. 9. 2016.

GUIDING THEMES

All projects represent inquiry-based learning approaches.

★ Science for the Youngest

Projects for pre-school and primary school children.

★ Science and our Environment

Projects which use science to explore environmental, health and sustainability issues.

★ ICT in Science Education

Projects which use information and communication technologies in the classroom.

★ Inclusive Science

Projects which address socio-economic, gender and cultural inequalities.

★ Cooperation for Science Teaching

Projects developed in cooperation with schools, the industry or universities.

★ Low-cost Science

Projects which are simple and can be adapted by everyone.

★ Joint Projects

Have you already participated in a previous Science on Stage festival? Then apply with a colleague you met there for a joint project! See application form on www.science-on-stage.eu.

APPLICATION CATEGORIES

★ Fair

The fair is the main element of the festival: All participants present their projects and experiments at stands in an exhibition.

You can propose your project also for one of the following categories to be presented at the international festival 2017 in Hungary finally selected by the festival programme committee:

★ Workshops

Interactive hands-on sessions from teachers for teachers.

★ On Stage Performances

Participants present performances or experimental lectures on a stage.

CRITERIA

The overall motto is 'from (school) teachers for (school) teachers'.

The ideal Science on Stage project:

- ★ promotes students interest in science,
- ★ refers to everyday life,
- ★ has a sustainable effect,
- ★ is feasible in everyday school life and can be financed with reasonable expenses,
- ★ promotes inquiry-based learning.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Applications are available at www.science-on-stage.cz.

The application includes a short description of the project in English.

Application deadline is 10. 9. 2016.

Representants of the Czech republic at the International festival in Debrecen will be chosen at the National event in iQLANDIA.
